

more prepared to make your stay a little more comfortable.
I called Alton Buntz about your manuscript. He said he would finish reading
it and then bring it to me Sunday. Let's try to read it and get it right back to you.
Hope all is well with you.

Dear Harold,

James received your letter yesterday - just at all the thanks you for thinking of her and sending the price.

It was a beautiful letter and although she understands it for the most part she is going to save it and give it to her when she grows up - I think she'll appreciate it even more.

I am sorry I didn't get to say good bye - I intended to get up before you left - I went back to sleep and woke up at 7:30 and you were already gone.

It was a pleasure having you here - hopefully next time you visit it's the aunt and

DEAR HAROLD THANK YOU FOR THE PINS.

I SLEEP

ALONE NOW.

LOVE

~~James~~ Jamie
